VOL. XVI

JUNE 1954

All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players,
They have their exits and their entrances,
And one man in his time plays many parts.
—William Shakespeare

Foreword...

Throughout the following pages of our yearbook, we of the Pioneer Staff have tried to portray both the curricular and extracurricular activities of our last and most memorable term in Andrew Jackson.

Turning the pages, we recall four years of preparation for the world which we are about to face. While most of our high school career was devoted to serious study, a great part of it was spent in acquiring new friends and participating in various activities.

We look ahead into the future with a feeling of sadness as well as joy. Some of us are going to college while others are entering the business world or the armed forces. No matter what our choice, let us strive not toward personal gain, but rather toward the betterment of mankind.

Love for our Alma Mater has grown throughout the years, and in the future, the class of '54 will always be ready to assist in upholding the good name of Andrew Jackson.

We, the Senior Class of June 1954, take great pride in dedicating our yearbook to MR. GEORGE COHN, our friend and advisor. We hope in this way to voice the thanks we have always felt, but sometimes neglected to express. Although he too was a newcomer just four years ago, his understanding of teen-agers has already made him very popular with the students. He has brought a greater appreciation of literature to those of us fortunate enough to have him for our English teacher. His wonderful personality, warm smile, and friendly manner will long be remembered.

Dedication

Principal's Message

To the Class of 1954:

You have chosen wisely in taking your theme from Jaques' famous soliloquy. "All the world's a stage" and each of you in your turn will play many parts. Graduation marks the successful completion of one role and the beginning of a new and more challenging one.

The stage setting for the parts you are now called upon to enact is a world in flux, a social and political arena in which the scenery is drifting rapidly. Among the roles you will assume are those of the citizen, the worker, the consumer, the family member, and—for some—the student once again. I trust that your years at Jackson have given you a firm foundation upon which you can build the edifice that is to be your life. I hope that you have developed a devotion to justice and liberty, a reverence for the rights of all men, and an enduring faith in the moral and spiritual values that are our greatest strengths. I hope that you are equipped to face the future with confidence, courage, and purpose.

In the unfolding drama that lies ahead, your roles will be largely your own to create. However you are cast, be true to your ideals and thereby achieve what a contemporary of Shakespeare called the "quiet mind," the serenity and satisfaction that come with self-respect.

I wish you every measure of success and good fortune. God bless you!

Memorial

JOSEPH CASHIN

November 6, 1953

We, the graduates of 1954, mourn deeply the death of our close friend and swimming instructor, Joseph Cashin. As a person, he properly impressed us all as a man as completely honest in his thinking as in his work. His fine competitive spirit inspired many a team to victory and won for him the highest regard and esteem of all his colleagues and students.

Senior Class Officers

We, the members of the Graduating Class of June 1954, have completed four years of education. We can recall the effort, the homework, and the anxiety in preparing for examinations. But the inevitable tasks in becoming educated are now fading in our memory. We now have the satisfaction that comes from meeting a challenge, completing a task, and gaining the ability and knowledge to face the problems that loom ahead.

We can look back to the joy of friendship with our classmates and look forward to its continuance. The future may not bring us together often. But wherever we shall be, we shall have in common our ideals of good will, of loyalty to our country, and of loyalty to God.

BOYS' SPORTS

With such stars as Dusty Mormando, Phil Shumway, Don Laux, Ted Witting and Herbie Mass and, with the leadership of the famous "magician" Mr. Grummond, Jackson's basketball team has been successful in the past two seasons. Although we have just missed the finals and City Championship twice, the team brought back the spark of real enthusiasm that should be here. Attendance was the best ever and an increase is assured for future seasons. . . . The Swimming Team has shown fine strokes in these past terms. Even though we lost the Queens Championship by a one-half second margin, Warren Roseland and Jimmy Lynch set their own individual speed records for breaststroke and backstroke swimming. Mr. Smith, our coach, is hopeful for a bigger and better season next year. . . . With seniors, Jimmy Morris and Al Gutenmann, and the able leadership of Mr. Wrenn, Jackson's baseball team kept up the fine record set by previous teams. They won most of their games and should prove to be a serious threat in the coming seasons. . . . This year, as in the past, Jackson's Track Team has brought glory to Jackson by winning the Queens Championship and placing second in the City. Senior stars were Al Almasy, Joel Markowitz, Tom McNeil, Tom Lee, Bill Katz, Mel Hoffman, and Jack Lucey. All of these boys have won individual scoring records for themselves and helped to win the team awards with their great performances. . . . Last but not least Jackson's Tennis Team with their star, Frank Pisciotta, has gained fame and renown for Andrew Jackson. Frank was named the best boy tennis player on the entire Eastern Seaboard.

By participating in competitive sports the members of our teams not only showed their athletic ability, but also helped to raise still higher the traditional "Jackson Spirit."

GIRLS' SPORTS

Throughout our four years at Jackson High, we have enjoyed a wonderful extra-curricular program provided for us by the Health Education Department. Each term, awards are presented to girls outstanding in the clubs in which they participated. P.S.A.L. pins, all-around-athletic medals, chevrons, novices, and Minor "J's" are a few of the awards given out.

Varsity is the Department's honor society, and a girl must have earned her Major Letter to qualify for membership. Although this organization is still young, we hope in the future it can grow to take an active part in school affairs.

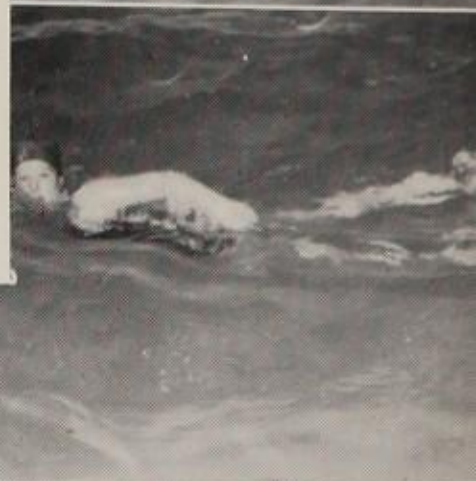

Leader's Club has developed into a worthwhile and widely known activity. While helping to build character and leadership, Mrs. Hilbert, the club's sponsor, has always been ready to give friendly advice and encouragement whenever it was needed. Future members' performance and personality are checked by rigid tests and teacher's recommendations before "white-suits" are awarded.

Mrs. Goodman's Bowling Club has a special attraction to upper-termers, and "Fritz's" is the byword of all members. Under competent instruction, the girls have learned bowling skills and the rules of the game.

The Swimming Club, sponsored by Mrs. Vogel, is another activity enjoyed by all.

Though confusing at first, "Scrambled Eggs" is exactly what its title implies, a mixture of all sports. It is now under Mrs. Gray's supervision.

A few outstanding athletes from our Senior Class are: Carole Baier, Dotty Kranich, Nancy Larkin, Pat Powell, "Andy" Radogna, Carol Strickland, and Pris Wood. These and many other girls have given time and effort to assist the friendly gym teachers.

Show

The Variety shows are a display of Jackson's singing, dancing, instrumental and comic talent. The method for selecting the acts in the show is by audition. Rehearsals are necessary if successful and enjoyable shows are to be produced. Johnny Colombo deserves much credit for his managerial work.

Last year's Variety Show was highlighted by the music of a band composed of Jackson students. The graduates in the band are: Phil Shumway, Bill Pisciotto, Danny Masse, and Joe Barbera. Vivian Williamson's singing ability, Ethel Campbell's and Johnny Colombo's dancing feet plus Frank Devlin's comedy were other senior contributions to the show's success.

Biz

The Variety and Varsity Shows play an important part in the extracurricular activities of Andrew Jackson.

Last term's Varsity Show, "January Thaw," was a delightful comedy, directed by Miss Koehler and starring some of Jackson's senior talent. The leads were taken by Arthur Fajans, Andree Wetterau, Frank Devlin, and Rhoda Levy. Some of the supporting roles were held by Iris Solomon, Patti Steckman, Joyce Pipp, George Singhel, Johnny Colombo, and Robert Gordon. The importance of the people-behind-the-scenes in a production should not be overlooked. Prompters, costume, prop, and publicity managers along with lighting and stage crews contributed to the success of the play. These jobs were taken by Elaine Interrante, Olympia Parasco, Ruth Rommel, Joyce Leonard, Ann Marsh, Bob Emery, Peter Myers, and Don Lundy.
